has successfully completed the online Specialization

Vibe Coding for Developers

The holder of this certificate has demonstrated proficiency in AI-powered software development by completing this specialization. The learner has mastered prompt and context engineering for reliable AI code generation, used GitHub Copilot for completion, chat, debugging, and testing, applied Cursor IDE for codebase-aware editing and Antigravity for UI generation, built full-stack applications with Bolt.new, Replit Agent, and Lovable with database and authentication integration, and deployed production applications using Claude Code with MCP server integration, automated testing, and CI/CD pipelines. The certificate validates the AI-assisted development skills across the complete software lifecycle.
